

SISC's Safety & Health Plan

JUNE 5 2022

CHANGE LOG: SEE BELOW

Here is the Safety & Health Plan for season 2022. Please read the entire document already now, so you can prepare yourself for a fantastic and safe time at the farm.

In these still complicated times, we will have some great weeks on the farm this summer. To make a safe and healthy season, it is important that everyone follows the guidelines and rules and that everyone behaves in a responsible way. Both before and during the stay at the farm - even if you don't agree with the rules or have different views on the corona situation.

Please note that this document is subject for change depending on current global and regional developments and discoveries by national or supranational bodies. Some possible examples: authorities changing quarantine rules, the spread of mutated strains in Denmark, introducing obligatory PCR-testing on entering Denmark, the declaration of a country as a high risk area, etc.

Introduction

All around Europe, the corona situation is getting better, and more countries are loosening up or removing the corona restrictions. In Denmark for instance, all corona restrictions have been removed. But there are still countries with restrictions. And since our members are coming to the farm from all over, we want to create a safe space for everybody again this year.

The Safety & Health Plan is made around the principle of a bubble, where normal corona measurements will not be enforced during the weeks. For instance, no face masks or social distance, once you are in the bubble.

If you don't feel comfortable with this, we encourage you to re-evaluate your stay.

The rules are the same for everybody, but if you come outside EU please check what extra rules that might apply for you.

All participants and staff goes through the arriving procedures and other procedures in the Safety & Health Plan. Once cleared and inside the farm, participants are kept in a bubble without any contact to the outside world - see exceptions below.

We are aware that it is not possible to make a stay at the farm a 100% safe, but we believe that these rules and guidelines make it as safe as possible and eliminating as many risks as possible. Going to the farm is built on trust. All participants should do their best to follow the rules and instructions. You are going to the farm on your own responsibility.

In this document you may not find the internal procedures like cleaning, hygiene, handover between weeks, procedures for testing team and more.

The wellbeing and safety of members and staff comes first. So if SISC finds that it is not safe to run a week, we will take the hard decision of cancelling it, in spite of possible financial consequences.

It is NOT enough to just read until here. You need to read and understand the full document :-)

• Entry in Denmark

At this point, there are no restrictions to enter Denmark. However, it is your responsibility to ensure what applies for you. Please use this link for the latest news:

• Prepare for the farm

Again this year, we will receive Danish Kroner and Euros at the farm. So please bring enough cash, we don't take other payments like credit cards.

• Strong suggestions

- Up to 5 days before arrival at the farm, please do not attend bigger social gatherings of more than 5 people.
- If you travel by public transport and you can not keep a distance of 1.5 meter to others, please wear a mask.
- If you have any covid symptoms, or if you have been in contact with somebody that is infected with covid, please stay home for the safety of everybody and use the option of a 100% refund.

• Documentation

Everyone has to present a proof of full vaccination plus booster. If you are not vaccinated, you will need to take a PCR test (taken no longer than 48 hours before your arrival) and present proof of your negative PCR test.

Please bring your documentation in the form of a printed or digital human readable certificate (no QR codes, because we can not scan it!) and make sure in good time that you have access to the documentation, since some covid apps are no longer active. Please note again: we can't scan QR codes at the farm!

Upon arrival at the farm, everyone will have to take a rapid covid test (free of charge). SISC will provide for the tests. The negative result will give you access to the farm. If the test is positive, you can't get into the farm and you will receive a 100% refund. After a positive rapid covid test at the farm, you are allowed to take a PCR test on the same day, at your own costs. If that PCR test is negative, you will have access in the farm.

• Participants may not enter the farm if:

- they have any of the corona symptoms
- they cannot provide proper documentation (see above)
- they are tested positive
- they have been with someone that was diagnosed corona or has any of the corona symptoms up until a week before they arrived
- they are travelling in a car with someone that is tested positive

• Travel to the farm

- If participants travel by car together and one is tested positive by arrival, all participants in the car will be considered positive
- If a participant (after completing the SISC safety procedure) leaves the farm to pick up someone else, both the driver and the newly arrived need to be tested before entering the farm. If the newly arrived is tested positive, everybody in the car will be considered positive.

• Entering the farm

- All participants need to arrive between 15:00 and 18:00.
- All participants will receive a Safety & Consent Form (sworn statement) to be filled out on arrival at the farm.
- If something happens during your trip and you will be delayed, please send an email to camp@sisc.dk
- If there is one participant in a car that is tested positive, everyone in the car will be considered positive.
- Participants arriving at the farm will have to wait on the street and in safe distance and wait for instructions from the staff. While waiting, it is not allowed to have any contact with other participants you are not travelling with.
- If a participant has a positive quick test, they are allowed to go to a public or commercial testing place to have a second test done. This must be a PCR test.
- If a participant needs an extra PCR test, it is at their own expense.
- If a participant needs to wait for the result of an extra PCR test, SISC will assist in finding accommodation. The accommodation is at their own expense.

• During the week

- Every week will be in their own bubble. This means that all participants are in a closed circle and do not have any contact with anybody else outside the farm. It also means that both the farm area and all participants are cleared. Participants can act freely as in before corona times.

- Participants are not allowed to go out of the farm. If a participant goes out of the farm, they are not allowed to re-enter. There are two exceptions:
 - You can leave the farm by foot to go for walks and runs outside the farm. If you do this, you'll have to avoid all contact to people outside, and stay within a distance of 1.5 meter to other people. You are not allowed to do shopping, meet up with other people outside the farm, etc.
 - In case of health emergency or an urgent medical condition, Management (Camp Manager/ Camp Assistant) has to be informed immediately. The participant(s) involved is allowed to leave the camp for medical treatment. If company is needed, one person can go with them. Special instructions on how to proceed, will be given by Management. Re-entering the farm after a medical emergency can only be done after approval of the of Management.
- It is not allowed to meet up with anybody that is not a participant.
- There will be an external shopping team that has no physical contact to anyone in the week. The shopping team can take minor shopping orders.
- The SISC bar will have a bigger variety of drinks and snacks.
- In order to prevent participants from going to the cash machine (ATM), SISC will take Danish Kroner and Euros this year at the farm.
- If a participant doesn't feel well with or without symptoms, they will have to follow instructions from Management.
- During the week, Management can always decide to have all participants tested (including staff).
- Because the bubble situation is different from other years, there will be practical changes to some normal rules and options.

For instance, if you want to make a phone call, normally you would do this outside the farm. This year that would not be possible. For this and other issues, we will have practical solutions ready.
- If, during the week, urgent matters come up where for instance a plumber or electrician is needed, there are separate internal instruction for staff. This includes a total separation to participants, cleaning and more.

• In between weeks

- Participants who will stay for the next week will get an additional rapid test.
- Participants are not allowed to leave the farm between the weeks (see exceptions)
- Participants that stay will not interact with non-cleared persons.
- In the time between the weeks, the take over team (a SISC member that is not part of the week) is in charge and will take special corona safety measurements described in the internal instructions.

• Leaving the farm

- All participants that don't stay for the next week have to leave camp latest at 11:00.
- No physical contact is allowed between participants arriving and participants leaving.

• After the farm

- After arriving home, participants have to follow their own country's guidelines.

- All participants are encouraged to test as soon as possible after arriving home. If the test is positive, the participant is obliged to inform SISC immediately. SISC will then pass on the information to all other participants anonymously.

General rules

- Everybody, including staff, has to follow the rules.
- Management, together with the SISC board, can send a participant home if they don't follow the rules or instructions.
- Management, together with the SISC board, can choose to stop a week in case of a virus outbreak.
- If someone has to travel home or is not admitted to the farm before the week ends for whatever reason, the costs and responsibilities are entirely on the participant.
- SISC is not liable for any risks of any participant.
- Participants are responsible for their own personal insurance.
- Participants are responsible for traveling and arriving in time at the farm.
- All documentations, certificates etc. must be in official approved format, and as a minimum in English.
- By law, SISC is not obligated to share participant's data to authorities. If a participant contacts health system themselves, other rules may apply.
